Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5 and 7-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Delorme et al US 6187792 or Delorme WO 98/28275. Chang et al WO 93/15062 and Delorme WO 98/28275 both teach diphenyl piperidinyldene methyl compounds corresponding to those recited in the claims for use in treating pain. See, respectively, page 10 formula (II) where G is carbon and page 118 example 52, and, page 37 example 12. Selection of these common analogous substituents would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art as the resulting products would not have been unexpected.

Applicants' comments have been noted and considered but are not deemed persuasive of patentability. With respect to Chang et al it is noted that Delorme teach analogous compounds with a double bond linking to the central carbon moiety. Regarding Delorme it is noted while Delorme does teach $\text{-NR}^5\text{S(=O)R}^4$ in the para position of the phenyl moiety Chang teaches an analogous compound with substituent in the meta position having comparable uses. To make these modifications in view of the art as a whole would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art as the results would not have been unexpected.

No claim is allowed.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
